

Study Abroad Programme at Germany's Green University

International Summer Term Programme Agriculture, Food & Nutrition - B.Sc. Agriculture

27 April - 22 July 2027

Weihenstephan-Triesdorf University of Applied Sciences (HSWT) in Germany invites you to join our summer term programme 2027

The study programme takes place annually at our Triesdorf campus and welcomes exchange students from around the world. The curriculum includes courses such as “Agriculture and Food Industry in Germany”, “Applied Crop Production, Technology and Economics”, “Interdisciplinary Group Research Project”, and “Production Procedures”, as well as German and English language courses.

Participation is open to students enrolled at a university outside Germany who are studying Agriculture, Food Management, or a related field. Applicants should be at least in their second year of study and have English language proficiency of level B1 or higher (according to CEFR).

No tuition fees are charged. A semester fee of approx. 82 Euro is payable upon enrolment. Students must cover living expenses and meet financial and other visa requirements, if applicable.

Students from partner universities should contact their coordinators for information on scholarship opportunities and nomination procedures. Freemovers can apply until the end of October 2026.
