Topic Description

Specific Challenge:

Fisheries, an important part of the blue economy, provides food, generates gross profit of around EUR 1,342 billion and accounts for more than 150,000^[1] jobs, and contributes to coastal social cohesion and resilience. The Common Fisheries Policy (CFP) regulates access to and use of the marine living resources. The CFP seeks to apply the ecosystem-based approach to fisheries management, with fishing in line with the Maximum Sustainable Yield concept and minimizing the effect of fishing on the ecosystem^[2]. The Marine Strategy Framework Directive (MSFD) requires that fish and shellfish stocks are in good environmental status^[3]. The Maritime Spatial Planning Directive^[4] aims to regulate uses of the marine environment. The design of such policies can be better served with a holistic, integrated approach. For successful policy implementation an improvement of our predictive capacity of environmental impacts on marine biogeochemistry and productivity, food webs and ecosystem structure and functioning, is required. Considerable effort to scientifically and technically support these policy objectives goes hand in hand with filling considerable gaps in basic knowledge and providing predictive tools available for integrated management.

Участь у міжнародних заходах «БіоГоризонт»: відкриваємо нові перспективи (12 липня 2019 року)

На початку липня цього року в Брюсселі пройшли міжнародні заходи за проектом «БіоГоризонт» (координатор – Bozena Podlaska; BioHorizon project, EU H2020 Research and Innovation Program, Grant Agreement No 652637; <https://www.ncp-biohorizon.net/>), а саме: «BioHorizon Interactive Training. Opportunities for proposers in H2020 SC2 Work Program» (2.07.2019) і «BioHorizon SC2 and KET-B Brokerage Event» (3.07.2019).

Основною ж метою «BioHorizon» було надання якнайповнішої інформації та проведення тренування для формування успішних конкурсних заявок Робочої програми H2020 і наступної програми Горизонт Європа, ознайомлення з актуальними конкурсами Соціального виклику другої робочої програми «Horizon 2020», а також організація білатеральних зустрічей для розвитку партнерства і створення консорціумів для потенційних грантів H2020 під час «BioHorizon SC2 and KET-B Brokerage Event».

Під час «BioHorizon interactive training. Opportunity for proposers in the H2020 SC2 Work program» об'єднавшись в невеликі групи після відповідних рекомендацій команди БіоГоризонту: Bozena Podlaska, Saske Hoving і Matteo Sabini, учасники сформували основні пункти ряду конкурсних заявок H2020.

Були надані окремі корисні рекомендації щодо формування конкурсних заявок Н2020 у вигляді доповідей організаторів заходу, представлено короткі презентації одночасно у трьох секціях: Sustainable Food Security (1), Rural Renaissance + Blue Growth (2), Food & Natural Resources + KET-Biotech (3), а також згідно індивідуального порядку денного Лілія Калачнюк взяла участь у 10 білатеральних зустрічах і з іншими учасниками заходу – майбутніми потенційними координаторами чи партнерами конкурсних заявок Н2020, які представляли університети, приватні підприємства і компанії, та керівниками НКП ЄС.
